

NOTES

Dimensions on this drawing are not guaranteed to be accurate.

Decks, retaining walls and other structural elements may require approval from a structural engineer. The designer accepts no responsibility for the methods of construction, materials or structural specifications of any element of this design.

Any works outside the boundary of the site, or encroaching on an easement may require approval from the relevant local authority.

Locations of easements, pipes, cables and any other underground services must be properly identified prior to any excavation work or planting being conducted. This drawing does not purport to identify any or all such services.
